FIGURES AND FACTS SHOW GROWTH OF SOUTHLAND

Will Chapin, in Talk to Barnum-Walters Force, Tells of Prosperity

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.

The surge of mankind to Southern California from the four corners of the earth was likened to one of the great migrations of history by Will Chapin, "the original hillside subdivider," at a banquet in the Egyptian Village last night, tendered by H. E. Barnum and M. Walters of the Barnum-Walters company to their Sparr Heights sales force.

Mr. Chapin, an official in the Hollywood Hills Association and for over fifteen years an advocate of hillside property, furnished his forty hearers with a mass of statistical evidence to back up his every claim and proved conclusively that Southern California is at this very moment enjoying the greatest tourist year of its history. He stated that he will see 50 per cent more tourists next season.

Growth Continues
"A total of 1,600,000 people visited Southern California in 1923," said Mr. Chapin, "and spent $160,000,000. In 1924, 2,500,000 people will come here and will spend $250,000,000. Of this mighty throng who yearly visit our land, it has been proved that 40 per cent ultimately make it their home, while the railroad trip tickets are cashed from their Los Angeles offices."

"Each year Los Angeles is adding to its population a city the size of some large metropolis. In 1923 it added a city three times as large as Sacramento and in 1924 will add a city as large as Portland and five times the size of Glendale. In other words, Los Angeles gained 200,000 population in 1923 and will gain 250,000 additional population in 1924."

Volume of Realty
"The volume of real estate business handled in 1923 was $1,250,000,000. We who are engaged in this business have at our disposal a financial power we ourselves do not fully realize and that others realize only when they have the facts laid before them. The facts are our weapons."

"Thirty years ago the corner of Hollywood boulevard and Ca-huenga avenue could have been bought for $50 an acre, and several years later the corner of First and Spring streets sold for $1500. These properties are vastly valuable now, and yet the difference is only one of population. Los Angeles is over 1,000,000 today. In fifteen years the metropolitan area will contain 15,000,000 people and values will have risen in proportion."

"The only thing that can stop people coming to Southern California is if they stop having cold."

STRIKERS AWAIT PACT'S APPROVAL

Mails and Foodstuffs Lie On Docks Till Agreement Is Ratified

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Although the strike of dock workers is settled, imports, especially of foodstuffs and mails, were still held up today. Peril of a food shortage will not be ended until the agreement between the strikers and the employers is ratified.

The strike ended in a victory for the men. At first it was reported the strikers were returning to their posts, but later the dock workers' leaders announced that the strikers would not resume their duties until the agreement is formally confirmed. The strike of bus men is settled also.

Boost Labor Ministry
The ending of three strikes is another argument advanced by supporters of the labor government.

The terms of the dock settlement were not revealed, but it was understood the employers grant one-half of the wage increase demanded by the men and will grant the remainder within three months.

FATHER AND SON BURN HANDS IN PECULIAR WAY

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—Jack Rust, 61, and his son, William, 29, were suffering today from badly burned hands, the result of a peculiar accident. The elder Rust treated his hands with turpentine to ease inflammatory rheumatism. He then lighted his pipe and the turpentine was ignited. His son attempted to beat out the flames and in so doing his hands were badly burned. Both were treated at the receiving hospital.

BOY ADMITS HE MURDERED FOUR

Slays Mother, Father and Two Sisters 'to Wash His Sins Away'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 21.—Frank McDowell, who said he killed his mother and his father and two of his sisters to wash away a "sin against the Holy Ghost," was confined today in the Pinellas county jail at Clearwater, Fla., under a heavy guard.

The 19-year-old boy was being watched closely in fear that he would take the final step in this horrible three-fold scheme to wipe out all members of his family in order to atone for his "sin." The final act, he told police, would have been the taking of his own life one year from yesterday by drowning.

One year ago yesterday—the anniversary of his "sin against the Holy Ghost"—he offered his two sisters as a burned offering to subdue the wrath of an "unjust God." This happened at Deatur, Ga., when he ignited a gasoline-drenched mattress upon which the two girls slept and then locked them in the burning room.

Killed in Sleep

He took the lives of his father and mother as a second step in his "blood-cleansing" pact. They both were shot to death as they slept. In a composed manner he told officers of the quadruple killing and then held an animated discussion with the chief of police on religious topics.

The confessed slayer said he "blasphemed against the Holy Ghost" on February 19, when he was 12 years old. About this date ever since, he said, his mind became "hazy" and he felt that some atonement was necessary. Explaining his reference to the "anti-Christ" in the confessions, the youth insisted that his sisters were followers of the "false Christ" and that this was the cause of their death. His parents were also allied with this "false God," he said.

SENATE OBJECTS TO FUND FOR SCHOOL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—By a vote of 40 to 35 the Senate this afternoon sent back to the appropriations committee the 1924-25 interior department appropriations bill because it carried an item of half a million dollars for Howard university, a government school for negroes. Objections to the university item were made by southern senators, who said the appropriation was "out of order."

CALIFORNIA MAN TO SOLDIER HOME BOARD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The Senate this afternoon passed a joint resolution appointing John J. Steadmann of California to the board of managers of the national home for disabled volunteer soldiers. The bill now goes to the House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Following up his attacks on Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Senator James Couzens, Republican, of Michigan, this afternoon introduced a resolution in the Senate proposing an investigation of the bureau of internal revenue.

BRITISH JOURNALIST, AUTHOR, DEAD

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Sir Henry Lucy, widely known British journalist and author, died here today. He was in his seventy-ninth year. Sir Henry was also a world traveler. During his long career he was on the staff of Punch, as "Toby, M. P.," on the Pall Mall Gazette and editor of the Daily News.

STORM DRAIN SOUGHT FOR SYCAMORE

City Council Will Make Another Effort to Get Aid From County

The City Council is going to make another effort to have a storm drain built to care for the waters of Sycamore canyon. Although steps have been taken to get an appropriation from the county flood control fund several times, the transfer of funds has been disallowed by the county legal department on the ground that there was no provision in the law permitting the transfer of any of these funds to a municipality.

In the present action the initiative will be taken by the property holders themselves, on the advice of V. B. Stone, city manager. He advised the City Council this morning that if an easement could be secured to the land required for the drain, then the council could pass a resolution asking that the flood control committee build the drain.

Money On Hand

James W. Reagan, chief engineer of the flood control committee, has advised the council that there is money on hand now to do the work, and immediate steps will be taken as soon as Ben S. Dupuy, city engineer, and Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, can outline the project to the satisfaction of the county authorities.

The council decided by unanimous vote to support in every way possible the oratorio "Elijah" to be presented under the auspices of the Glendale Music club March 25. In a letter addressed to the council Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president, outlined the plans of the club which will bring some of the greatest artists in the country to Glendale for this occasion. Mayor Spencer Robinson spoke in favor of the project, and a resolution will be prepared and adopted at the next meeting of the council favoring the club's plans.

Library Board Change

The resignation of Olin Spencer as a member of the library board was accepted. Nathan Rigdon was appointed to succeed Mr. Spencer, and Mrs. Flora Temple and Mrs. Charles A. Baker were appointed to fill two existing vacancies.

SANITARIUM COST OVER MILLION

Board of Managers Tells Of Varied Improvements To Be Installed

When the new Glendale sanitarium is completed it will have cost more than $1,000,000, according to statements made at the meeting of the board of managers in the sun parlor of the institution yesterday. The elegant furnishings that are being installed in the rooms to satisfy men and women of particular tastes, together with the up-to-date medical equipment, and the furnishings in the culinary department, where the choicest of foods will be prepared, will cost considerably more than the board anticipated, yet everyone was enthusiastic yesterday over the prospects of attracting a patronage that will speak for the future welfare of the institution.

Dr. H. G. Westphal made an earnest appeal for the speedy completion of the institution, declaring that the old building is now filled to its capacity, and men and women are being refused entrance because of a lack of accommodations. He was assured that it would be but a matter of a comparatively few more days when the interior would be in such shape as to permit the beginning of the transfer from the old to the new structure.

New X-Ray Outfit

In response to an appeal from Dr. Westphal, the board at its session yesterday, which was really a joint session of the board and the executive committee of the Pacific Union Conference, authorized the purchase of a new X-ray outfit. It was decided that the purchase of this equipment Dr. Westphal said that the X-ray outfit would not meet the demands that would be made for such an outfit in the new institution. The equipment will be purchased at a cost of several thousand dollars in New York and will be a standard combination machine, adapted to both radiographic and deep therapy work. It will be equipped to treat internal cancer and other troubles of deep locality, according to Dr. Westphal. He said that the equipment is now being used in various large hospitals and other medical institutions and has the reputation of obtaining most excellent results. The motion to purchase the X-ray outfit was made by Elder R. F. Martin and seconded by W. D. Salsberry.

Treasurer Is Named

T. L. Copeland, who has recently become a resident of Glendale, was appointed treasurer of the new sanitarium, a new office created with the naming of Mr. Copeland. The appointment was subject to the release of Mr. Copeland from the auditorship of the Pacific Union Conference, and it was stated that this would be but a mere formality, inasmuch as several members of the executive committee of the union conference were present and approved of the action of the board in appointing him to the new office.

Free Four Suspects In Mail Theft Probe

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—Four of the six men held on a Los Angeles indictment charging implication in the million dollar mail robbery there March 3, 1921, were free today, while the remaining two prepared to go before United States Commissioner James R. Glass to plead against removal to the California city.

Commissioner Glass late yesterday held the postoffice department failed to produce sufficient evidence to justify the removal of Dr. Haldane Clemenson, Walter Gehler, Michael J. Rowell and William J. Seapas. Kenneth B. Anderson and John Grahame were held over for further hearing.

Carter Seeks Writ To Enter Tut's Tomb

CAIRO, Feb. 21.—Counsel for Howard Carter went into court today seeking a writ to prohibit the Egyptian government from breaking open the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen. The attorney also requested an order permitting Carter to resume his exploration of the tomb.

M. Lacau, director of antiquities in the Egyptian government, has not yet gone to Luxor but has issued orders for the tomb to be re-opened. Additional measures have been taken to protect the contents.

Charles B. Warren Gets Nomination By Coolidge As Mexico Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—American recognition of Mexico was completed today when President Coolidge named Charles B. Warren of Detroit to be ambassador at Mexico City. The White House sent the nomination to the Senate soon after receipt of formal assurances from the Obregon government that Warren is satisfactory.

Warren formerly was ambassador to Japan and more recently he was one of the special envoys from this government sent to Mexico to negotiate the claims conventions upon which recognition was based.

MEXICO SELECTS REPRESENTATIVE TO U. S.
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 21.—Gonzales Roa, one of the Mexican commissioners in the Mexico-United States recognition conference, will be appointed Mexican ambassador to Washington, it was learned this afternoon. In the meantime Mexico has made the usual representations to Washington to ascertain if Senor Roa is persona grata to the American government.

Commercial Congress Offers Plan For Financing Soldier Bonus Through British Debt

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—A plan for financing the soldiers' bonus through use of the British debt settlement was proposed today by the Southern Commercial Congress. The plan, based on the principle of amortization, would finance the bonus without increasing taxation and without a drain on the federal treasury, by means of a bond issue to be paid off in fifty years at a cost of only $55,000,000 annually for every billion dollars paid the world war veterans.

It was designed to meet the objections raised by the late President Harding and by President Coolidge.

Senator Owen Will Submit Proposition

The measure will be submitted to the Senate by Senator Owen, Democrat, of Oklahoma, who dropped his opposition to the bonus after approving the plan.

The amortization scheme was drafted by Clarence J. Owens, president of the Southern Commercial Congress, who composed the amortization table used by the United States and Great Britain in planning the British war debt settlement.

Immediate cash for the bonus would be raised, under Owens' plan, by issuing bonds at 5 per cent interest. This rate would be higher than on any other government bonds, thus insuring a ready market. By adding one-half of one per cent annually for payments on the principal, the government could pay off the total bonus cost in fifty years by annual expenditures of $55,000,000 for each billion dollars used.

Could Be Met By Diverting War Debts

If the bonus cost $3,000,000,000, annual payments would total $165,000,000 a year to retire the principal and meet all interest payments for fifty years. The annual cost, Owen proposed, could be met by diverting war debt payments by Great Britain or other allied nations. The British payments alone amount to $161,000,000 a year. If the total bonus cost were less than three billions, the British debt payments alone could finance it.

The amortization table on $1,000,000,000 abbreviated to ten-year periods, would divide the annual payments between principal and interest as follows:

Period	Interest	Paid on Principal	Balance Unpaid
First year	$50,000,000	$ 5,000,000	$95,000,000
Tenth year	47,243,326	7,756,674	93,109,336
Twentieth year	42,365,195	12,634,805	83,469,087
Thirtieth year	34,419,233	20,580,767	67,803,900
Fortieth year	21,476,100	33,523,900	395,998,096
Fiftieth year	293,099	7,861,933	(Paid off)

BRITISH LAUNCH NAVAL BUILDING RAILWAYS TO BE PLEDGE FOR DEBT

Work on Six New Cruisers to Afford Thousands of Laborers Work

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The British cabinet today decided to carry out the naval construction program previously agreed upon and will probably begin work upon six new cruisers immediately.

The labor government, while favoring disarmament, believes that construction of additional warships will relieve the unemployment situation by giving work to thousands of laborers.

United States Behind
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The United States is being left behind in the development of naval strength to the full extent authorized by the Washington conference treaty, naval authorities said today in commenting on dispatches from London reporting British building.

While the United States has made no plans for the construction of new tonnage in the classes of ships exempt under the treaty, Great Britain has launched an ambitious ten-year program calling for construction of 52 light cruisers of 10,000 tons each, and Japan is also forging ahead rapidly, despite financial hindrances caused by the earthquake.

NEW CHARGES AGAINST ATTORNEY GENERAL ARE PLACED WITH PRESIDENT

Special Investigators Examining Books of Brokerage Houses Find Evidence Cabinet Officer Had Interest in Shares

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Responding to a request from President Coolidge, the Senate this afternoon passed a bill appropriating $100,000 to pay the expenses of the litigation in connection with the cancellation of the Sinclair and Doheny oil leases. The bill has already passed the house and now goes to the president for final approval. The $100,000 appropriated is to pay the expenses of Atlee Pomerene and O. J. Roberts, the president's special oil counsel.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—To the charges already made against Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty in connection with his administration of the department of justice was added the further charge today that he had dealt in Sinclair oil stock through a New York brokerage house.

The information on which these new charges are based has already been laid before President Coolidge, it was said this afternoon by Senator Wheeler of Montana, who is leading the fight to oust the attorney general from the cabinet.

It is understood that the special investigators rendered a report to two Democratic senators, Walsh and Wheeler, on the evidence they found on the brokerage books, and were instructed to reduce this report to writing, which was done. Reinforced with this new sensational evidence, the Democratic senators called upon Republicans and it was decided that this situation should be known to the president.

"Information was brought to me from New York Sunday afternoon," said Senator Wheeler, "that Attorney-General Daugherty had been dealing in oil stocks. I understand that this information has been laid before President Coolidge."

Special investigators have been examining the books of brokerage houses in New York.

Find Cabinet Officer's Name Upon Stock Records

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The name of a cabinet officer has been found on the books of New York brokerage houses which are now being examined by expert accountants for the Senate public lands committee, it was learned today.

The records show that this official dealt extensively in oil stocks, including some shares of Sinclair, it was declared.

News of the transactions which furnished official Washington with another lively sensation in the rapid fire developments of the naval oil reserve leasing scandal, did not come as a surprise to the committee. Members have heard reports for several weeks that not only the cabinet officer and Senator Davis Elkins, Republican, of West Virginia, dealt in Sinclair stocks, but that an examination of certain brokerage houses' books would reveal almost wholesale deals by government officials in oil and coal stocks. The most extensive transactions were declared to have been made by the federal officials during the period that ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall was negotiating with Harry F. Sinclair for the lease of Teapot dome. These facts led the committee to call for books of leading brokers in three cities—Washington, New York and Cleveland.

More Publicity
Committee members indicated today that the light of publicity will be thrown on all these transactions at open hearings as soon as the accountants finish their audit of the records.

The committee itself, for the first time since the ten-day recess was called last week, did not schedule a formal meeting today. Unless some new and unexpected developments arise, Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin declared no session would be held until next Monday, when Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, leader of the investigation, returns from a vacation in the south.

Harry F. Sinclair, who has just returned from Europe, is said to have informed the committee that he is willing to appear again whenever desired. In view of Sinclair's willingness to take the stand, Lenroot indicated that the committee would wait his questioning until Walsh was able to take the lead in the questioning.

May Hear McLean
On the other hand, Lenroot admitted that it was possible the committee would resume sessions before Monday, possibly to hear E. B. McLean, wealthy Washington and Cincinnati publisher, whose personal counsel has been in consultation with Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, author of the resolution for an investigation of Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty. McLean and Daugherty have been warm friends. McLean has been in Washington awaiting a call since last week.

Meanwhile, the special counsel, Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomerene, were pressing forward rap-

Pressure On President To Oust Attorney-General

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—A sword of Damocles, with the thread in the hand of President Coolidge, dangled today over the head of Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty.

Tremendous pressure was being exerted on the president from every side—in the name of party expediency—to sever the string by demanding Daugherty's resignation in the face of charges of malfeasance in office. Against the advice of Republican leaders, Senate spokesmen and his personal advisers, the president was apparently holding firm to a promise that the attorney-general will remain in the cabinet until he has had a fair trial on the charges leveled at his conduct of the department of justice.

The Senate, overwhelmingly opposed to the attorney-general, was moving toward enactment of the Wheeler resolution authorizing an investigation of Daugherty's record in the cabinet until he has had a fair trial on the charges leveled at his conduct of the department of justice.

Convinced, meanwhile, that the president would not weaken in his determination to give Daugherty a fair chance to vindicate himself, Republican party leaders turned their guns directly upon the attorney-general. To please that he voluntarily resign "for the good of the party" and as a means of quieting the federal judiciary, the attorney-general turned a deaf ear.

The attorney-general's defiance of his foes was reported to the Senate today by Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Pepper of Pennsylvania, who went to the White House yesterday to advise his removal. The president was said to have told the senators that, while perfectly willing for Daugherty to resign voluntarily, he could not demand the resignation.

Republican leaders of the Senate, however, were hopeful the attorney-general would weaken. In its entire Republican membership only a handful of senators were openly in favor of continuing Daugherty in office. These were Senators Willis, Fess from his home state of Ohio, Watson of Indiana and Moses of New Hampshire. They contended that the attorney-general deserves a fair trial, and that rather than failing to prosecute criminals, Daugherty had brought so many prosecutions as to practically paralyze the limited federal judiciary—a condition for which congress itself was responsible.

Seeks Test Vote
Senator Wheeler, who sponsored the proposed investigation, announced this morning he would force a test vote upon his resolution during the day.

Before a vote can be reached on Wheeler's resolution an agreement must first be reached on his proposal to name an "insurgent" controlled investigating committee. A compromise was being sought to have the committee members proposed and voted upon directly from the floor of the Senate.

INQUIRY UNDER WAY

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 21.—Attorney-General Daugherty informed Governor Bryan today that the department of justice is investigating the gasoline situation in the country. Governor Bryan had previously telegraphed the president asking for an investigation of the oil business of the country, which the governor maintained, is extorting from the gasoline consumers millions of dollars.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Women of Today

The name of every woman of importance and influence, who has helped during the past century to make the world better, was mentioned yesterday at the meeting of the Literature department of the Tuesday Afternoon club, at the clubhouse.

"Women of Today" was the subject of the meeting, which began with the naming of well-known women in response to the roll call.

Mrs. Harry Wilcox, curator, was in charge of the meeting, which was featured by many things of interest.

Mrs. Charles Jones gave an interesting sketch of "Women Writers," giving their lives and work.

Mrs. Bolton presented a sketch of "Women in Public Life," stressing the fact that women of today have a much broader field of activity than they did years ago.

The club women were specially delighted to have with them a group of friends of Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, composer.

Mrs. L. Goodbar, who was a friend of Mrs. Beach for fifteen years, gave some intimate glimpses of Mrs. Beach's life, and stated that she was the only woman composer who has written a symphony.

She also said that Mrs. Beach was entirely educated in the United States, and went abroad as a finished artist.

In eulogizing Mrs. Beach, Mrs. Goodbar read an original poem she wrote about her friend. Later she gave three songs written by Mrs. Beach, "After the Darkness Dawning," "Nacht," and "When Soul Is Joined to Soul." She was accompanied by Miss Gertrude Cleophas.

Mrs. Hardy of Piedmont and other friends of Mrs. Beach were present as special guests.

After a book discussion tea was served by the hostesses, Mesdames E. S. McKee and Robert McMullen.

Rodaire Club

Miss Eva Brehme was hostess last night to the members of the Rodaire club when she entertained with an informal social affair at her home, 806 South Maryland avenue.

The rooms of the Brehme home were attractively decorated in a red and white color scheme carrying out the Valentine motifs. Red hearts and tall red candles were used in decorations for the refreshment table.

The evening was devoted to sewing and an informal social time. Late in the evening refreshments were served.

Those present included, Misses Zilda Cross, Henrietta Meek, Mesdames, F. M. Duffey, Ray Enzle, Robert Gier, Paul McGowan, James McGowan, Herman Psenner and Miss Eva Brehme.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Zilda Cross on West Windsor road, Wednesday night, February 27.

Plan Conference

The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Women's Temperance Union is to be celebrated in Glendale Friday, February 29, at the Central Christian church, where Mrs. Eva Wheeler, state president, and Mrs. Clara Shelton, state treasurer, will be speakers and the Glendale Union host at morning, afternoon and evening meetings. There will be a noon luncheon.

It will be a jubilee conference and the work of the crusaders will be given an important place on the programs. One of the features will be a tableau depicting the crusaders' work.

The morning session will begin at 10 o'clock, the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the night gathering at 7:30 o'clock.

Plans are being made by Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, president of the Glendale Union, and her staff of officers.

Presents Review

"Do Your Children Play or Go to the Movies?" was the subject of an interesting article reviewed yesterday by Mrs. W. H. Dotson at the meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle at the Public Library. Following her review the women engaged in a live discussion of the subject and the conclusion was that play was more essential to the child.

Mrs. H. V. Henry, chairman, was in charge of the meeting.

It was announced that the circle had given $5 to the Mission Play fund and that its name would be written on the Golden Scroll.

The birthday party is being planned for March 5 and at that time all old members will be heartily welcomed.

In the afternoon Mrs. Henry continued reading from the study book.

Gives Song Group

Miss Flora Kilpatrick, talented soprano, will give a group of songs tonight at the meeting of the Christian Circle Club at the Glendale Presbyterian church. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Frances Grant.

The club members and guests are to meet at 6 o'clock for supper and later hear Miss Kilpatrick sing. Mrs. Neth will give one of her inspiring talks.

Gives Silver Tea

Miss Euilil Ballinger, a member of the Acacia Street school faculty, will be the hostess Friday afternoon at a silver tea, at her home, 322 Roads End, for the benefit of the Acacia School Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. L. D. Torrey, president of the association, hopes for a large attendance.

Open Parsonage

Dr. H. C. Funk and his family are now comfortably located in the new parsonage of the First Lutheran church at 233 South Kenwood street, and Friday night they are to be at home to the church members and friends.

Oxy Delegation Will Attend Y. Convention

Occidental college will have a large delegation at the California State Young Men's Christian Association convention which is to be held at Modesto February 22, 23, 24. The Oxy representatives are Robert Davidson, Ernest Garza, William Chaffe, Maynard Munger, Ralph Lewis, H. W. Lewis, father of one of the boys, is driving them up in his automobile.

Barnum-Walters Force Hears Inspiring Talk From Will Chapin

weather back east, and as long as people keep coming here, prosperity will continue, for those people will have to have homes. Where will you put 15,000,000 people in the next fifteen years, if not out in these beautiful hills?

Much Raw Material

"And why will the greatest city on earth develop here, with Los Angeles as its nucleus? Because within a radius of 600 miles we have in large quantities 85 per cent of all the raw materials in the world and also the most fertile agricultural lands, comparable to those of the Nile. And at our doors is the greatest market of this whole globe—the Orient, with literally billions of people waiting to be rehabilitated. Russia, Japan and China all look to the United States to put them on their feet. It will be generations before we can even begin to supply the demand that exists in the Orient for manufactured goods."

"Eastern manufacturers are beginning to realize that here in this beautiful land the greatest industrial metropolis that mortals have seen is to develop. A $35,000,000 steel plant is already organized. The Armour group are spending $300,000,000 here. Hundreds of millions are being spent in developing our harbor. Outside capital is pouring in by the billions. Over 700 new plants located here during 1924. And 1400 more will come during the present year."

Salesmanship Talk

"Our climate is delightful and has been proved 27 per cent more efficient for workers; our hydro-electric power is the cheapest and most plentiful of any place in the country, fully 70 per cent of all that is used in the United States being developed on the Pacific coast; we have in oil the cheapest fuel and produce one-third of all that the country yields; and in shipping we passed 70 per cent of all the tonnage through the Panama canal in 1923."

"Property values in Los Angeles and surrounding territory are far lower than elsewhere. The great 'boom' that certain powerful interests are saying has reached its peak has in actuality only just begun. Southern California, with a population of 4,000,000 now, will have a population of 10,000,000 in five years. The Edison company is spending $698,000,000 in the High Sierras developing hydro-electric energy sufficient for 6,600,000 people, in addition to the power we already have. They know what they are doing."

Greater Efficiency

Following Mr. Chapin's inspiring address, Ernest Gattell, general manager of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company, gave an educational talk on "The Psychology of Salesmanship." M. Walters of the Barnum-Walters company, who acted as toastmaster at the banquet, said a few words about Sparr Heights, stating that $2,000,000 worth of property there had been sold and that not one single investor had lost a dollar.

The meeting was concluded with a brief talk by A. M. Dewey of the Sparr Heights organization, a man who has been a student of Southern California's development for thirty-five years, and predicts for it a growth equal if not greater than that predicted by Will Chapin.

Fighting forest fires by the slow and crude procedures, involving digging of ditches, back firing and heaving down trees in the path of the flames, is passing. In northern Minnesota today, chemicals are used. The chemicals are carried to the scene of the fire in a tank truck like an oil motor truck, and with the aid of a force pump are thrown on the fire, checking the flames over a wide area in a short time.

and has spent this time in the financial side of the Adventist church work. Before connecting with the Pacific Union Conference last September as auditor, Mr. Copeland was secretary-treasurer of the Southeastern California Conference. Before coming to California he was connected with several state conferences in the North Pacific Union Conference, which has its headquarters in a suburb of Walla Walla, Wash. He was with the Western Washington, Southern Idaho and Upper Columbia Conferences. Mr. Copeland will assume his new duties at once and will begin the reorganization of the many departments connected with the institution.

Protest Track Removal

Considerable discussion ensued when the question of car service to the new institution was approached and ended in a strong resolution being passed against the announced intention of the Glendale and Montrose Railway company removing its tracks from Wilson avenue. Information was advanced to the board to the effect that the car company officials were contemplating removing the tracks which now pass the entrance to the new sanitarium and placing them on Broadway.
Such a plan would materially affect the institution, according to members of the board, and would keep many residents of Glendale and other cities in southern California from visiting the institution. The resolution declared that such an action on the part of the car company would militate against the future success of Glendale in the way of an increase of visitors to this city, and also in its permanent population. The action of the board called for a copy of the resolution being sent to the officials of the car company, and another to the City Council.

It was pointed out that beginning next week eighty nurses of the institution, together with other employees will want to ride on the cars. The plan is to move these employees to the new buildings, and also some of the kitchen equipment, and it was suggested that the car company would be making a wrong move to remove their tracks.

It was also planned to give the patients in the old institution the first choice of selecting rooms in the new building. A committee composed of the faculty of the sanitarium was appointed to bring back to the board a proposed rate for rooms in the new building. The board will hold another session in a few days to consider this and other propositions. When the moving from the old to the new building begins, one of the smaller buildings on the old grounds will be equipped as a kitchen, so as to furnish meals for the patients in the hospital, who cannot be moved to the new structure.

It was voted to ask the Glendale Chamber of Commerce to endeavor to secure Governor Richardson as one of the speakers in the opening ceremonies of the new institution. It was practically decided to have the opening on Sunday, March 23, and a committee of six members was appointed to prepare a program for the occasion. This committee will consist of Elder W. M. Adams, who is chairman of the board of managers, as chairman of the committee; Dr. H. G. Westphal, Dr. W. J. Johnson, C. E. Kimlin, W. F. Martin and Mrs. D. D. Harris, who is superintendent of nurses.
The board suggested to the program committee that it endeavor to secure Elder A. G. Daniels of Washington, D. C., as one of the speakers. Elder Daniels is secretary of the foreign missionary board of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination, and has had a world-wide experience. For twenty-one years he was president of the general conference, and, as such, traveled extensively to all parts of the world. He is, perhaps, the best-informed man in the denomination on the extensive medical operations now being done by the denomination in various parts of the world, and he will probably tell of the scope of this feature of the church movement.

Those present at the meeting included President W. M. Adams, J. L. McElhany, president of the Pacific Union conference; C. E. Kimlin, Drs. H. G. Westphal and W. J. Johnson, B. M. Emerson, G. W. Reaser, F. E. Painter, David Voth, T. L. Copeland, W. D. Saulsbury and W. F. Martin.

PAVING DEFECTIVE, IS CHARGE MADE

Association Has Committee To Ask City Council For Protection

That the new paving now being laid on Glendale avenue is defective, that the surface of portions completed are too soft to stand up under traffic, and can be picked out with a penknife, were charges made at today's meeting of the Glendale Advancement association by I. P. McClish, a member of the association.
After discussing the matter the association appointed a committee consisting of eight members to go before the City Council with instructions from the association to see that proper steps are taken to guard against defective paving, or else to start an injunction proceeding to compel that result.

Marion Star Owners Sue Banker Vanderlip

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Roy D. Moore and Louis H. Brush, owners of the Marion (Ohio) Star, have filed suit for $600,000 against Frank A. Vanderlip, banker, for slander and libel. The action was instituted in the United States district court, and papers in the suit have been served on Vanderlip.
The suit is the outgrowth of the recent statements of Vanderlip regarding the sale of the Marion Star by the late President Harding. As a result of his statements, Vanderlip was called before a senatorial committee and admitted he had no basis of facts for his remarks.

The Measure of a Man
Coolidge and His Cabinet
A Maelstrom of Scandals
1924 Issue Is Clear Cut

By Gil A. Cowan

Indeed it is a rare privilege to get the measure of a man.
The writer had the privilege of hearing Dr. John Willis Baer, former Occidental college head and presently a prominent southland banker, giving his views of a personal visitation to the White House.

In view of the unfortunate remarks of Frank A. Vanderlip before a rotary club, Dr. Baer requested that he not be quoted, although he cast no aspersions, stated little that already has not been published, but he did characterize President Coolidge as the man of the hour, outstanding, straightforward, well informed and courageous.

It was a rare treat for Rotarians in Pasadena, on the west coast, to hear from a banker an entirely different type of talk than that sensational speech of Banker Vanderlip in the east. Words of praise for high officials, backed by intimate knowledge, should merit publication, and we are sorry that the good doctor restricts the freedom of speech, particularly when he is speaking publicly.

Therefore, in our own words we shall impart information gleaned from him and others regarding the national situation, if you will bear with this roundabout method.

Newspaper reports of the day indicate that others will go besides Mr. Denby, secretary of the navy. In fact, Attorney General Harry Daugherty is slated to retire at once. Who will follow him out is problematical. Nevertheless, a political housecleaning—some consider it a maelstrom of scandal—is due, and perhaps no housekeeper is more capable than President Coolidge, assisted by his good wife. They are people whom dollars cannot swerve, fully realizing the responsibility of their positions. Big legislative issues looming forth, such as the Mellon tax plan, require "the big stick" be wielded. It is the most wonderful opportunity, one would believe, any president would desire in which to accept the challenge of leadership and win out in face of obstacles.

First of all, let it be explained that President Coolidge has a forceful personality, a positive attack, with a command of monosyllables such as "yes" and "no," "absolutely," and "perhaps," even the late Theodore Roosevelt's famous term, "Dee-lighted," for he is optimistic over the outcome of his administration in face of bitter partisan and political attacks.

It has been noted recently that the president has sought the company of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., undoubtedly to obtain his opinion. Likewise, the chief executive has sought the viewpoint of others—particularly those who have no marked political encumbrances. Yet, he also exhibits the greatest regard for the elected representatives and freely accepts their advice. This should not be construed to mean that he is coerced. Neither does he bow to the will of any of his advisers.

Truth is, President Coolidge occupies an unusual position, a rather difficult one, too, in which he has no entangling alliances fortunately. He is free to act as he pleases, truly the commander of the ship of state. And he is acquainting himself with the problems as they arise, seeking the facts, informing himself with what he considers reliable intelligence and exercising the rare good judgment of doing no superfluous talking.

Just where President Coolidge will stand with the American public in another six months depends, one would predict, on the information it receives through reliable sources—and what information he receives through reliable sources. It will be much easier to "bunk" the mob, perhaps, than to fool the one lone man standing at the head of the Republican party as a result of fickle fortune, or predestination, whichever way you care to have it. Upon him rests the yoke of grief, but it is predicted he will come "smilin' through," not complaining, not galled, not weaker, but stronger for the test of ability to meet, not one crisis, but many.

No doubt President Coolidge wishes he had the time to meet more western men like Dr. Baer, who are not motivated by the dollar-mark. No doubt another term in office would find him conforming to the desires of many who cannot agree with him at this time. No doubt he would reorganize his cabinet more effectively if he were to know that time would permit of accomplishment.

As matters now stand, a man would be in danger of feeling repudiated were he to accept a vacant portfolio and find his opportunity ended shortly after becoming acquainted with details. So it is that we must draw the conclusion that—

President Coolidge must be judged solely on his own merits—the measure of the man himself—not the party, not the past, not the present, but the future.

The question before the American electorate this year has been defined by the course of events to mean simply this:

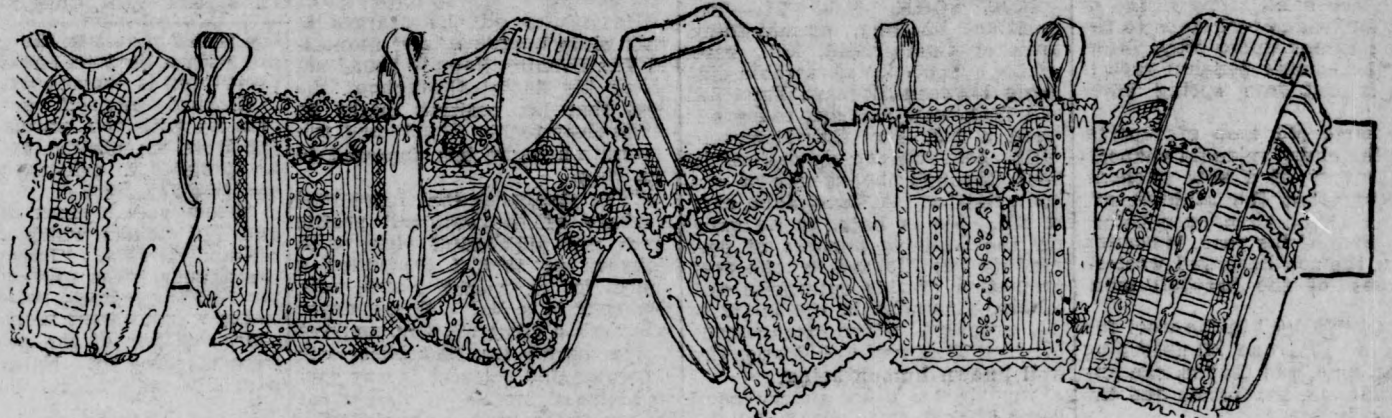

"Is Calvin Coolidge meritorious? If not, who is? Mr. Johnson? Mr. Reed? Mr. Walsh? Mr. McAdoo? Mr. Cox? If so, why?"

FILM STAR WILL APPEAR AT MEET

Virginia Pearson Will Boost Soldiers' Compensation At School Rally

Virginia Pearson, movie star, and members of her company will be present at the mass meeting arranged by Glendale Post No. 127 of the American Legion to be held at the Harvard street school grounds Saturday afternoon, February 23, for the purpose of discussing the adjusted compensation bill.

Miss Pearson, who during the war paid her own expenses on a trip to France to entertain the American forces, has always been an ardent supporter of the Legion. She will recite several pieces and will be accompanied by others who will entertain in various ways.

Col. Smith to Speak

The latest speaker to be added to the list is Col. LeRoy Smith, head of the Veterans' Bureau in Los Angeles, who knows the adjusted compensation bill thoroughly and is very familiar with the needs of the ex-service men today.

Mattison B. Jones, who is expected back from Chicago tomorrow row afternoon and is known to favor the bill, will be asked to address the meeting. Mayor Spencer Robinson and other city officials will be on the platform.

Arrangements for a band have not as yet been completed, but definite arrangements will probably be concluded this afternoon.

SPRING FEVER BASEBALL CAMPS

Pennant Chasers' Prospect Revived by Evening
News' Expert

By AL DIX
Of The Evening News Staff.
With the annual pilgrimages of the major league ball clubs to the training camps under way, interest in the coming pennant race is being fanned into spring fever heat.

The same old crop of reports, giving the clubs' splendid chances, the discovery of a new phenom, or that the athletes are in better shape than ever before at this time of the year, is coming in from the southern and western fastnesses of the baseball monarchs.

But to the dyed-in-the-wool fan there is just one all-absorbing question now, and that is, can any team beat out the Yanks and the Giants this year?

How It Looks
Right now it looks as if competition in the American league must come from Ty Cobb's Detroit Tigers, with the Cincinnati Reds furnishing the opposition in the National circuit. The Tigers, with wonderful hitting strength, fell by the wayside last year for the want of another pitcher and a good second baseman. If the youngsters acquired by President Navin during the winter can fill these vacancies, then the three-time winners from Gotham are due for a big battle. The report that Rigney would be unable to play seems to have been unfounded, at any rate, Tyrus says, now that Topper will be on hand.

But the Yanks themselves seem to figure on winning again. Miller Huggins let Carl Mays, the storm center of baseball, go to the Reds, but has acquired Earl Combs, generally considered the brightest star of the American association, and is said to have paid $75,000 for him. Combs is a terrific slugger and great on the attack, the only question concerning his present fitness for the big show being the doubtful quality of his throwing.

Rumors Fly About
Rumors that Eddie Collins is to be traded to the Yanks by the White Sox for Waite Hoyt, Eddie Scott and three other players will not down. Collins visited the Yankee owners before leaving for the White Sox rendezvous in the Windy City. With Eddie in the lineup it looks like a cinch for Huggins' crowd. The Yanks have the greatest pitching staff, with the possible exception of the Reds, in major baseball, and the loss of Hoyt, even though he turns in a good number of wins, will not be felt to any great extent.

The experts in the east are of the opinion, and it seems to be well founded, that the Reds are going to be one-two this year with the Giants, yet concede the Pirates a chance to be in at the finish.

With the addition of Jackie Mays, coast wonder, and Carl Mays of the Yankees, together with Tom Sheehan, rated as one of the best pitchers in the American association, to the regular staff of last year, it looks as if the Red opposition was in for a lot of trouble this year.

Others' Prospects
McGraw has scattered his team, and states that most any man he has is for trade with the exception of Frankie Frisch. Travis Jackson is going to step into Bancroft's shoes at short, and Southworth will work regularly in the outfield. The Giants, in a desperate attempt to bolster their pitching staff, purchased Wayland Dean of the American association. If Dean can deliver he will step right in as a regular pitcher, as McGraw certainly can use another twirler, or, in fact, about four.

The winter's trades and releases have been significant of one thing: There has been a tendency on the part of the stronger clubs to strengthen the "weak sisters," as McGraw makes the 1924 race a hummer. The magnates perhaps have realized that a good close race with two or three clubs in at the finish is a wonderful help to all teams, and the cut that the players get out of the world's series now with its million-dollar gate is enough to make all hands extend themselves.

Right now it looks as if the Yanks could repeat this year, but the chances of the Giants are very doubtful. Yet McGraw pulled through last year without any pitching to speak of, and he may do it again this year, although it does look as if there was a real race to even his ability to win games with nothing to do with it.

Charlie Deal Will Wear Tiger Uniform
Ed Maier of the Vernon Tigers states that Charlie Deal, considered the greatest third sacker outside of the major leagues, would play for the Tigers this year. Following his refusal to play for Vernon last year, when he was traded by the Angels for Red Smith, he had been given permission to make a dicker for himself with any major league club. Just why he did not do this, Maier doesn't state, but the wise fans think it was the size of Maier's bank roll that stopped the proceedings.

This decision of Deal means that Bill Essick will be able to switch Jackie Warner over from third to shortstop, a spot that was weak all last year, after Ray French was declared a free agent and went to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

CUMBERLAND ASKS FOR CHAMP FIGHT

Maryland Townsman Talks
To Tex Rickard Over
Dempsey-Willard Bout

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For The International News.
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The hustling, bustling, up-and-down town of Cumberland, Md., hard by the site of the memorable dialogue between Barbara Fritchie and Stonewall Jackson, today entered a bid for the Dempsey-Willard heavyweight championship bout, through the agency of one John Snyder. At least John says it did. He is here, so he says, for the laudable purpose of persuading Tex Rickard to take over promotion of this enterprise and others. Included in the latter is the proposed return engagement between Dempsey and Firpo, the well known human being.

Mr. Snyder takes a very good game of pool, so to speak. Among other things, he claims that Governor Ritchie has indicated official tolerance toward the two bouts and will not be a party to interference, premature or belated. He also declares that he has the backing of the Cumberland chamber of commerce, the mayor, the fraternal orders and the town in toto.

Shows Sincerity
To show his sincerity of purpose, he was a visitor to Madison Square Garden yesterday. Five years ago when Rickard was casting about for a spot on which to drop the Dempsey-Willard affair, he wavered between Cumberland and Toledo before electing the latter. The selection is said by Snyder to have been hastened by the fact that the then incumbent for the governor's chair hesitated too long with his sanction to Sully Rickard. Governor Ritchie, an attorney-general at that time and was almost palpitant in his eagerness, says John, to have the fight got to Cumberland.

Calls It Focal Point
"It is the ideal place for a big fight, what you might call a focal point," he declared. "It is within two hours of Baltimore, three hours of Washington, five of Philadelphia, eight of New York, three of Pittsburgh and eight and one-half of Cleveland. We do not want to make money, all we want is the fight. Rickard can promote the bout to suit himself and the profits are his. We, on our part, are prepared to cooperate in every way."

If Mr. Snyder's not dealing in apple sauce, Cumberland is the first town in three long years to speak audibly for the services of Harry "Whits" against Jack Dempsey.

Southern Branch Meets Oxy In Tennis Tilt

The Occidental college men's tennis team will meet the University of California, southern branch, in the second round of the conference scheduled matches on Saturday morning at Oxy. Both teams are formidable contestants for the championship and each has already won their first tournament. S. B. U. C. downed Pomona last week and Oxy trimmed Caltech. It will be the first appearance of the two teams in intercollegiate matches. They have had worlds of experience and should have an equal chance against the Branch. The tournament will begin at 9:00 A. M. Palmer, Pinnell, Boice, and Creighton, will be the Oxy representatives, and are rated in the order named.

There are three tennis players on the Occidental team who have played together for three years in intercollegiate matches. They have had worlds of experience and should have an equal chance against the Branch. The tournament will begin at 9:00 A. M. Palmer, Pinnell, Boice, and Creighton, will be the Oxy representatives, and are rated in the order named.

Willard In Flat Denial Of Reports He Demanded Cut Of Scalpers' Profits

In an exclusive interview with a representative of The Glendale Evening News, Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion of the world, from his home in Verdugo Woodlands, denies absolutely that there was any truth in the charges filed by Gene Doyle of Los Angeles, that he had demanded a cut in the scalpers' profits, for a return match with Jack Dempsey.

He refuses all the charges in very plain language, and requested The Evening News to broadcast today his denial throughout the east that his position might be made clear to his friends and followers where he has appeared in the ring.

"The statement that I received a share of the scalpers' profits from my milk fund fight with Johnson or that I demanded a share for a return match with Dempsey is a lie. There never was such a clause in any contract I signed with Tex Rickard or any promoter that referred in any way to scalpers' profits. I fought for a guarantee and a percentage. The sale of tickets or the prices received did not interest me. That was up to the man handling the bout."

Doyle's Statement
Gene Doyle, of Los Angeles, who was associated with Willard when he made his famous comeback, had made the following statement, according to International News Service:

"I saw the contract that Rickard submitted to Willard for a return bout with Jack Dempsey and it called for a guarantee of $60,000 in cash, a percentage of the gate over $400,000, an interest in the pictures and a percentage of the scalpers' profits," said Doyle.

"I asked Willard what that clause was about where it mentioned a percentage of the scalpers' profits and he stated that he was wise to the way they did business in New York and he was going to get all that was coming to him and that Rickard turned over thousands of seats to scalpers to beat the law governing the prices of the fight tickets."

"Willard asked me to change a clause in the contract that called for $2500 training expenses to $5000, which I did and I signed the contract as a witness, but Willard never sent the contract back as he wasn't satisfied with the time they had given him to train for the bout or the date set for the encounter."

It had also been charged that Willard's contract with Rickard for the fight with Johnson in the "milk fund" show called for a cut with the scalpers. This Willard also denies.

Working Up To Dempsey
"There was some talk of my having a return bout with Dempsey, but there was never a contract drawn up. The sentiment of the sporting editors in New York seemed to be so strong against it that Rickard decided not to go through with it. After my victory over Johnson in the milk fund fight, I was told that I would have to fight Firpo, and then if I liked him, I would probably get another chance at the title."

"I went ahead and fought Firpo. The outcome of that fight you know. I lost, so there was no chance of a fight with Dempsey."

Gene Doyle never saw any contract that Rickard submitted to me for a return fight with Dempsey, and he did not see the contract for my fight with Johnson. I know nothing whatever of scalpers' operations. I was always too busy getting in shape for the fight to bother about that end of it."

Willard speaks of Rickard in the highest terms, and states that he held no belief that the charges filed against the famous promoter of Madison Square Garden had any foundation of fact. He says that in all his dealings with Rickard he had found him to be a "square shooter."

Rickard Calm In Face Of Scalping Charges

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For The International News.
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Faced with the unpleasant probability of a grand jury investigation of his handling of the Dempsey-Firpo fight tickets as an outcome of Tom O'Rourke's charges, Tex Rickard exhibited supreme composure today as he discussed the matter in detail. It is the common opinion that he would be just as unfurried when the investigation is over. Tex Rickard, they say, is entirely too smart to be caught in such a flypaper trap as that in which O'Rourke claims to have found him.

The O'Rourke charges, aired before the New York assembly at Albany, were to the effect that Rickard had had some $135,000 worth of tickets turned back to him by a local ticket agency after the fight. This, if true, indicated that Rickard had not sold the tickets to the agency, but had sent them there in the hope of getting the benefit of an advanced price. Thus, in brief, the intimation was made that Rickard was scalping under cover.

Story's Weak Point
Boxing men laughed at the intimation, and point to the fact that if Rickard wished to speculate he would do it with one or several of

COAST LEAGUE'S SEASON PLANNED

Local Fans Sorry Triple A Yard Has No Guest
Team This Spring

Twenty-eight weeks of baseball are to be offered to the Pacific Coast league fans this year, the season opening April 8 with Vernon at Sacramento, Oakland at Salt Lake, Portland at San Francisco and Seattle at Los Angeles; closing October 19 with Seattle at Portland, Salt Lake at Sacramento, Oakland at San Francisco and Vernon at Los Angeles.

For local followers of the sport the following double-header holiday games are arranged: Decoration day, May 30, Salt Lake at Los Angeles; July 4, Sacramento at Vernon; Labor day, Monday, September 1, Sacramento at Los Angeles.

To date the Seals are the only ones who have gone into training, although Vernon and the Angels will depart soon. The new park at Long Beach, where Marty Krug and his cohorts will condition themselves, is about completed.

Plant Here Vacant
To Coast league supporters in Glendale it seems a shame that the fine new plant on San Fernando road should not be used by any team this spring. An effort was made some time ago to have one of two teams of Harry Williams' circuit or an American league team train here, but no agreement could be reached on the financial end of the proposition.

The lack of adequate hotel accommodations was another factor that caused the deal to fall through. With the Cubs and the Pirates training on the coast there will be a better schedule of pre-season exhibition games on the coast than has been the case in the past. In addition to meeting several Coast league crews, the two major league outfits will play at Washington park.

Angels Get Elmer
Myers, Bee Pitcher
Oscar Reichow, business manager of the Angels, announced yesterday that a deal had been closed whereby Los Angeles gets Elmer Myers, pitcher, from Salt Lake, in exchange for Lindmore, infielder, and Elmer Ponder, pitcher.

In order to put the deal through it was necessary for the Angels to repurchase Ponder from the Atlanta club, who bought him several months ago.

Two years ago when Ponder joined the Angels he was one of the leading pitchers of the Coast league. Last year he did not do so well and seemed afraid to cut loose, his work seeming indifferent at times. Marty Krug, manager of the Angels, who is in a bad way for pitchers, is delighted with the deal. Myers has been wintering in Los Angeles and will go to Long Beach next week with the rest of the hurlers.

Now is the time when college athletes will migrate from gymnasium and exercise brain muscles in annual sabbath with professional examinations. They will show how fast they can read off their cuffs.

Grudgion heroes who formerly snubbed greasy grinds will now cuddle up to them like long-lost brothers. Just now, every athlete wants to be cross-eyed and park next to walking encyclopedias during exams.

If college pitchers could pass exams like they pass batters they would be awarded all-wool sheepskins with honors.

One quarterback never missed a signal in a football game, but when it came to chemistry he couldn't remember one formula out of the whole book.

He could hit any lines except the ones in a German translation. Report of bout in New York says McCann was knocked for a bouncing fall. Any bird who can make an Irishman bounce will bear watching.

COLORADO SPLITS ATHLETIC HONORS

'Where the West Begins'
They Divide Things,
Says Writer

By MICHAEL F. DACEY
For The International News.
DENVER, Feb. 21.—Colorado, where the west begins, the highest collegiate athletic center in the United States, has a population of approximately 1,000,000 persons, but from that million have sprung 10,000 students assorted in five colleges whose 1924 athletic teams now all are preparing for successful seasons.

The word "all" may be harmoniously used, because when the year 1924 ends the five major championships probably will be distributed as follows:

Basketball, Colorado College.
Track, Colorado University.
Baseball, Colorado Aggies.
Wrestling and boxing, Colorado Mines or Wyoming University.
Football, Colorado University.

It's the way colleges in the west, particularly in Colorado, have of dividing athletic honors, and "dope," that indispensable element to sport, sportsmen and sports writers, now points to the listed colleges as winners.

Work Like Machine
The Colorado College Tigers, of Colorado Springs, with Patterson, Bruce, Warner, Muecke and Broyles, have an apparently unbeatable basketball combination. Patterson and Bruce are the forwards. They have played together eight years in high school and college and by the "sixth sense" are able to "feel" each other's positions on the floor. Their floor work, their eagle eyes for the basket and their speed are remarkable. Other conference teams have small hope of stopping the Tigers from taking their third consecutive basketball championship.

Colorado University athletes, embracing a host of conference record holders, loom as probable winners of the 1924 track-and-field championship, while the Colorado Aggies of Fort Collins, termed the best sportsmen in the conference, with Charlie Dick, premier pitcher, should annex the baseball pennant. Batters in the conference schools are on a par, but Dick's pitching gives Aggies the edge on the diamond.

Demon of Ring
Russell Volk, 17-year-old demon of the ring, probably will lead the Colorado School of Mines of Golden to a championship in the boxing and wrestling division of sports. Last year Volk enjoyed the distinction of being the only man in the conference to win two letters in one night; he won two boxing and wrestling in the light heavyweight class. The University of Wyoming, of Laramie, may share honors with Colorado Mines with mind and on mat.

The University of Colorado, located at Boulder, the state capital, and the state would have matters its own way in football this autumn. The Silver and Gold won the title in 1923 and had the distinction of being the third high scoring team in the United States. Led by Head Coach Myron Witham, Dartmouth 1904, All-American quarterback, and captained by Fred Harshbarger of Longmont, Colo., fifteen letter men are ready to start spring football training in March in preliminary practice for the football season. Colorado whipped the state universities of Utah and Wyoming, Brigham Young University, Colorado Mines, Colorado Aggies, Denver University and Colorado College in 1923.

Unless scholastic standards tear huge gaps in the squad, should repeat the performance in 1924.

Caseys Ball Team to Hold Benefit Dance

The annual Washington Birthday dance of the Glendale K. C. baseball club will be held Saturday evening, February 23, at the Knights of Columbus auditorium on East Lomita avenue.

The Hollywood Californians will furnish the music and a large crowd is expected, according to Harry Mannish, captain of the team, who is in direct charge of the event. The K. C. team, which recently finished the season in the San Fernando league, has a small deficit, and this dance is looked upon as the means of raising the necessary funds to release the players from financial obligations.

Giants Leave N. Y. for Florida Training Camp

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The first detachment of New York Giants left in the midst of a blizzard, for their spring training camp at Sarasota, Fla., chartered by Judge Francis X. McQuade, treasurer of the club. Bill Ryan will be the only regular in the party.

M'TIGUE-STIBLING

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Mike McTigue, light heavyweight champion, and Young Stibling, Georgia schoolboy, were matched yesterday for a twelve-round bout in Newark, March 31, it has been announced by Dave Culnan, one of the promoters.

First bones found on Long Island. This will be a great surprise to many people who have always thought they originated in Africa.

'Bought and Paid For' to Be Offered Playgoers On This Week's Bill

The Royal Stock company will present "Bought and Paid For" tonight. This is conceded to be one of the greatest American plays ever written.

A powerful story with a vein of comedy this is. It makes an appealing play, every moment of which is filled brim full of "real show." Miss Elliott, Mr. Hildebrand, Miss Fletcher and Mr. Royal will have the principal parts, and the Royal Stock company members all unite in guaranteeing this to be one of the finest plays they have presented.

Drop Double Header To S. B. U. C. Athletes

Southern Branch emerged victorious in a double header basketball game with Occidental College in the Franklin gym last night, winning the first game, 26 to 21, and then snapping out the rut in the second half of the varsity game and coping the struggle, 20-14. The Oxy varsity combination showed up to good advantage and gave the Cubs the scare of their lives. They played superb basketball and during the major part of the first half led by three or four points. However, the stellar work of Brees, Johns and Goertz added a few markers for the Branch and the first period ended with the Cubs in the lead by one point, 11 to 10.

The game was one of the best ever seen on the Oxy home court. With Captain Harold Wagner, George Forden and Lane Johnson sick, the Tigers seemed to work better than at any previous time. The S. B. U. C. casaba team are now certain of winning the conference championship again this season. The Cub freshman team is also the best fresh bet for the title.

Tiger Tennis Team Beats Loyola Stars

The Occidental varsity tennis team held a practice tournament with the Loyola college net stars on the Tiger courts yesterday afternoon, and defeated the visitors 6 to 1, winning every match but the second singles. Elmus Pinnell lost his singles to Dwight after the match had gone into the third set. Palmer found difficulty in defeating Despars in the first singles match and for a time the Loyola man threatened him with a defeat. The second doubles match found Boice and Creighton battling against Sherb and Ryan in three hot sets, two of which were duces. Saturday morning Occidental will entertain the S. B. U. C. varsity in a conference match on the Oxy courts.

DREAMS, VISIONS, IS KERR'S TOPIC

God Is Revealed to Believer, Claim

There was a large attendance at the special evangelistic service at the First Methodist church last night when Rev. H. W. Kerr delivered a splendid address on "Dreams and Visions." During the first part of the service a special musical program was presented, including a duet selection by the Kerr brothers; a selection by the Ha-o-Win-to quartet, and a vocal solo by John Medlar. Rev. Kerr took his text from Acts 26-19, "Whereupon, oh, king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision," and Joel 2, 28 verse, "And it shall come to pass that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh, and your sons and daughters shall prophesy, your young men shall see visions."

"We all may have a heavenly vision and we need it. God has a task for us all to perform and the vision will show us first that we are wrong if not in a right relation with God."

True Idea of Sin
"The vision will give us a true view of sin, its hideousness and fearful results if continued. Vision will give us the right conception of Jesus, our divine Lord, and Master, our only hope for salvation. Vision will give us our right relation to others. To do with our might what our hands find to do and do it now while it is still day. Little we have done with all our opportunities. Vision will enable us to observe the Sabbath as a holy day, a means of spiritual culture instead of a holiday. Vision will make us and keep us four square on the prohibition question. Vision will keep us in fellowship with God and His people."

Obedience to the vision will make every one a hero, courageous to meet all the difficulties and dangers that confront us. The great need of the church today is a true vision of our Lord.

A forceful sermon will be delivered tonight by one of the Kerr brothers on "Spiritual Dynamics."

Local Elks on Visit
To Lodge at Pasadena
The officers of Glendale Lodge, No. 1289, B. P. O. E. Elks, journeyed to Pasadena Tuesday night, accompanied by the Elks' band and about twenty-five members, where they put on the work for Lodge No. 672. They were entertained by the Pasadena officers at a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the Vista del Arroyo hotel. On Monday night, February 25, reports Secretary Willis M. Kimball of the Glendale lodge, the journey here to put on the work at the East Colorado street clubhouse, when twelve new members will be initiated. They will be entertained by the Glendale officers at a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the Egyptian Village.

GAS RANGES

THE FOLLOWING LETTER SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.
ORIGINAL COPY MAY BE SEEN AT OUR STORE.

429 E. Loraine St., Glendale, Cal.
Feb. 16, 1924.

Elwood Gas Appliance Co.

Dear Sirs: When starting out to buy a gas range not long ago, I had several points in mind regarding an ideal stove. The main features looked for were:

First, SERVICE—How well it would wear.
Second, CAPABILITY—What it would do.
Third, CONVENIENCE—How easy to work with and keep clean.

Fourth, BEAUTY—Would it be an ornament to my kitchen as well as fulfilling my other requirements.

It may seem that this was too much to ask of any one range and I was about to begin thinking so myself until I luckily found the OCCIDENTAL.

It not only does all I asked for but far exceeds any expectations of what I thought a modern gas range could do.

YOU JUST CAN'T FAIL WITH AN OCCIDENTAL.

CAST ANNOUNCED FOR COMING PLAY

"Mice and Men" to Be Staged
By Community Service
March 7 and 8

"Mice and Men," by Madeline Ryley, is the comedy drama that will entertain Glendale's Friday and Saturday nights, March 7 and 8, in the auditorium at the Harvard High school, where a cast of well known Glendale people will appear behind the footlights.

The play, which will be directed by Grayville Sturgess, is the first production by the drama department of Community Service, of which Mrs. Max Lynn Green is chairman.

It is the desire of the drama department to stimulate dramatic activity in all parts of the city, and to organize groups from which to draw casts for productions throughout the year.

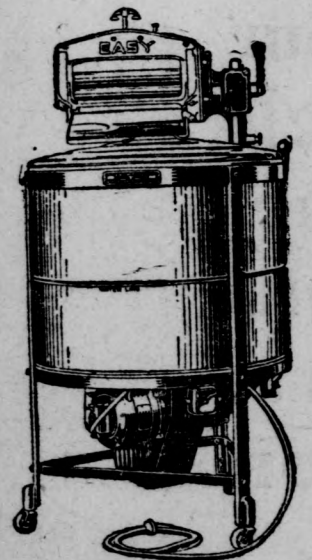

The action of "Mice and Men" is presented in four acts, the setting being an English country home at the time of the American Revolution.

List of Characters

Included in the cast are J. B. Clark, who will portray Mark Embury, scholar, savant and philosopher; Edgar Shockley, Rodger Goodlake, his friend and neighbor; Paul Morgan, Capt. George Lovell, his nephew; Joe Griffin, Sir Harry Trimblestone; A. J. Van Wie, Kit Ringer, fiddler and professor of department; Wesley Pomeroy, Peter, Embury's servant; Mrs. T. C. Young, Joanna Goodlake, wife of Mr. Goodlake; Mrs. Harry James, Mrs. Deborah, Embury's housekeeper; Mrs. George Hastings, Peggy, "The Little Briton"; Mrs. R. Ernest Tucker, matron of the founding hospital; Gould H. Warren, beadle of the hospital; Miss Georgia Campbell, Mollie, the kitchen maid; group of orphans and group of minut dancers.

Parents Turn Out Strong To Share Daily Program Of Children's School Work

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Never has a more enthusiastic student body hurried through the halls of the Glendale Union High school in response to class and assembly songs than last night at the new Broadway plant, where a "student body" of 300 or more parents responded to the invitation of the faculty and Parent-Teacher association to attend a "school night," participating in a "daily" program of their sons and daughters, which had been shortened to six seven-minute periods with seven-minute intermissions between.

This unique affair was the inspiration of the Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. C. H. Whitney is president, and the plans made by this organization received the hearty support of George U. Moyses, principal, and his staff of teachers.

Every parent attending was asked to bring "daughters" or "sons" program, and in many cases there were fond parents hurrying from room to room attending classes of more than one student.

Opens With Assembly
"School" began with an assembly in the splendid new auditorium, where Mrs. C. H. Whitney presided over a meeting of the Parent-Teacher association. The salute to the flag, led by Mrs. W. A. Sayler, patriotic chairman, opened the meeting and was followed with the singing of the California State Anthem. The dedication song by Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the Glendale federation, Parent-Teacher associations. Reports were heard from Mrs. J. I. Wernette, secretary; Mrs. R. C. Horner, treasurer; Mrs. Pierson Hanning, first vice-president and chairman of ways and means; Mrs. P. O. Lucas, membership; Mrs. E. B. Moore, extension lecture course.

Announces Benefit Show
Mrs. Hanning's report was of particular interest, for she announced that on Friday night, March 7, in the Broadway High school auditorium, the dramatic classes, directed by Harold L. Brewster, will give the comedy, "Dulcy," as a benefit for the Parent-Teacher association. The final speaker was Principal Moyses, who gave the "students" assembled directions for finding their class rooms. With his final word the going for the first period class rang and the "dads" and mothers hurried forth to find their first class.

In the various class rooms the teachers were located to greet the parents, the Broadway faculty receiving in their own rooms, and the Harvard High school teachers meeting their "classes" in the auditorium. Carrying out the six-period schedule afforded parents and teachers an opportunity to become acquainted and the parents a chance to see the nature of the building and learn of the work being done in the various departments.

Music By Students
At the close of the sixth period the assembly called sounded, and the "student body" returned to the auditorium for a delightful program given by students of the music department, under Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, and the dramatic department, under Harold L. Brewster.

There were selections by the school orchestra, led by Mrs. Gibson; selections by the boys' and girls' glee clubs, led by Mrs. Charles A. Parker; selection by a pupil of Miss Margaret Lulu Zeigler, piano teacher; and a playlet by Mr. Brewster's classes. One of the features of every Parent-Teacher association meeting is entertainment given by pupils of these departments, and much appreciation goes from the association to Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Parker, Miss Zeigler and Mr. Brewster for their capable work and graciousness in furnishing programs.

Program Is Given
The following program was given last night:
"Mazurka" (Delibes), by high school orchestra.
"The Song of the Deep Sea" (Wilson), "Lena Lee" (Wilson), boys' glee club.
"The Song of the Deep Sea" (Wilson), "Lena Lee" (Wilson), boys' glee club.
"Goin' Home" (Dvorak), "A Southern Hush Song" (Lynn), girls' glee club.
"Minuet" from "Military Symphony" (Haydn), high school orchestra.
One-act play, "The Passport" (Knoblock), high school dramatic classes.

The program was announced by Mrs. C. H. Thompson, chairman, of program.

Spanish Veterans to Hold Membership Drive

Plans for a whirlwind membership drive were made last night at the meeting of the local camp of Spanish War Veterans in the K. P. hall on South Brand boulevard. Past Commander Dr. W. C. Mabry and Commander L. D. Pike will head the two teams contesting in the drive. Dr. Mabry will be assisted by Lieutenant Voss and Mr. Pike by Lieutenant Young.

At the meeting last night it was announced that the affair planned for February 22 has been indefinitely postponed.

During the evening C. Lee Murphy was received as a new member, and three applications for membership read.

DR. ALLISON SPEAKER
The address tonight at the meeting at the Glendale Presbyterian church will be given by Dr. W. B. Allison of Occidental college. The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock and in addition to Dr. Allison's address there will be vocal numbers by Miss Mildred Hughey, assistant superintendent of music in the city schools.

MONTROSE CONSIDER PLANS TO INCORPORATE

Montrose C. of C. Members
In Important Meeting
Approve Project

By MARY B. DARROW
Of The Evening News Staff.
A meeting of vast importance to the La Crescenta valley was held last night by the directors of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce. This meeting was for the express purpose of discussing incorporation, as recent developments in this section seem to point the way to that end. Mark S. Collins and ex-Governor Plaisted of Maine were present as representatives of the La Crescenta Improvement association.

Mr. Irons, attorney, explained very clearly just what the pamphlets mailed by him to all valley residents meant, the point stressed by him being that, from present indications, incorporation is the only step to take to keep the valley from the ruthless hands of avaricious, self-interested residents, who seek to divide the community, breaking off a strategic corner for their own exploitation, which will ultimately end in annexation with one of the neighboring towns.

Mr. Irons in his leaflet suggested the formation of an anti-annexation league, and numerous signatures have been appended to the document he has prepared on this subject.

Responding to Mr. Brown's request for his views on the subject, Mr. Collins stated that six months ago, when the subject of incorporation was broached, he was very much opposed to it, as were practically all of the La Crescenta residents. "Now, however," Mr. Collins said, "in order to save and protect ourselves, we must surely incorporate. The proceedings of the past week, which most residents looked upon as a joke, have assumed imposing proportions when the future is taken into consideration."

Of course, it is up to the people whether La Crescenta and Montrose incorporate, but it is vital to the people of the two districts that quick action is taken on the question.

People Must Register
It is also important that all residents of the valley should register, so they may vote on the question when the time comes. A committee of one was appointed by J. L. Brown to speak to the members of the women's organizations here on these topics. Mrs. Mary B. Darrow will perform this service for the Chamber of Commerce. Last year there were but 480 registered voters in the precinct, and out of that number, according to Mr. Collins, but 125 voted on that very serious question.

Ex-Governor Plaisted of Maine commented on the easy stand the civic organizations had taken in reference to certain recent occurrences, but that the time for treating the affair as a joke has passed. Like Mr. Collins, Mr. Plaisted said he, too, had decided now was the time for incorporation, and that he was willing to give Mr. Collins credit for being big enough to admit he was willing to change his viewpoint. He stated it is a crime to divide our beautiful valley, for we were attracted here to make our homes in the beautiful surroundings the Higher Power has provided for us. It is, then, right for an individual to propose to come in and cut away a section of our valley. No, the valley lies as the Creator made it, therefore it is not wise for man to undo His works.

"The new element will grow rapidly if not checked at the outset."

Thanking the speaker for his talk, President Brown said: "Six months ago, when I broached the incorporation subject, very few were ready to listen; in fact, Mr. Collins was my chief opponent, but now he realizes the time is here when we must do something. I can't tell how glad I am to see a man such as Mr. Collins, who is ready to take the other side in a rightful manner. There is a tremendous future for the valley, which we stand united as a whole; otherwise, failure. If we can be big enough to look into the future, and realize what it will all mean, then we can see our situation and act on it."

Gives School Figures
Mr. Collins here stated the school enrollment had gained 125 pupils since the first of the term and the school question would be the next important subject for discussion. Asking representative men their opinion, the following were the sentiments expressed: Theodore Belanger: "I am for it, heartily. We now have a few merchants who are paying a night watchman's service, but we don't know how long that will keep up, or how long before we may need others."

Mr. Sullivan: "Always have been in favor of co-operation, and always will be."

C. L. Mead, of the board of directors in the La Crescenta Mutual Water company: "A serious subject is up for discussion; should a certain section draw off by themselves or annex to Glendale our water situation would be jeopardized. As our No. 1 well is in that district, it may mean a lawsuit of years' standing if something isn't done, and that at once."

C. J. Howard: "I always was against it, but now seems the time to do it."

C. Meyers, capitalist: "I am very much in favor of it."

T. O. Potts: "The other gentlemen have expressed my sentiment."

So, taking it all in all, the consensus of opinion was to incorporate. A committee of four from each center, La Crescenta Improvement association and Montrose Chamber of Commerce, will be appointed by President Brown, at Theodore Belanger's suggestion.

Present were President J. L. Brown, Secretary W. C. Kaune, Treasurer C. A. Haskins, C. L. Mead, Theodore Belanger, J. McKenna, W. Roscoe, T. O. Potts, W. J. Hickey, G. Carson, C. Key, A. E. Sullivan, A. F. Knawalt, A. F. Craft, W. H. Irons, C. J. Howard, A. Beaton, J. C. Coats, F. R. Harding of Montrose Chamber of Commerce, and President Mark S. Collins, ex-Governor Plaisted of Maine, secretary of La Crescenta Improvement association. The meeting was held in the F. R. Harding haberdashery, which Mr. Harding so kindly placed at the disposal of the Chamber of Commerce.

Hosts to Kiwanians
Montrose business men were hosts to Frank Keene, national organizer of the Kiwanis club; two representative Glendaleans, members of Kiwanis; Earle C. Pendroy, Fred Deal, President Stover of the Tujunga organization, and Toby Scoville, the Burbank representative. Also George Aiken of Sunland. Plans were discussed for the forming of a local club and it is thought in about a week or ten days the local business men will take a decided step in the matter.

Don't forget your weekly community sing tonight. Some very excellent music is promised, as Mrs. Daniel Smith will sing some of the old-time favorites in her own charming manner. Tonight at Montrose school at 8 promptly.

The partners of the popular Mutual of Harding-Brown, haberdashers, of Montrose have dissolved partnership, as the outside business interests of Mr. Brown were too great to permit of him carrying on his new business enterprise. The shop will be known hereafter as the Harding Store for Men.

Church membership in this country is now nearly 50,000,000.

FIRE AT OLD WINERY

The fire department was called yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to extinguish a blaze in the old winery property at the corner of San Fernando road and Elk avenue. A rubbish pile on fire threatened for a time to cause serious damage, but was placed under control before damage to any extent had resulted.

For International News Service.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—If there were an international championship title for golfing statesmen there is but little doubt that it would belong to J. Ramsay MacDonald, Great Britain's first labor prime minister.

At any rate, MacDonald is the best golfer that has ever held the office of prime minister of Great Britain. Lord Balfour was a good golfer, and Lloyd George is a fair golfer, but Ramsay MacDonald could give either of these ex-prime ministers a hole and beat him before the turn.

MacDonald has a handicap of seven, which means that he can hit the ball and, moreover, hit it where he wants to hit it and how.

The golfing propensities of MacDonald are almost instinctive. He learned to play golf in Scotland, where every lad handles a driver long before he becomes of school age.

The prime minister doesn't find much time for golf these days, but he still retains his old aptitude for the game and displays a form that would make many a professional envious.

During the war MacDonald's club barred him from membership because it took exception to some of his pacifist utterances. Since that time MacDonald has not played a great deal of golf, but has taken his exercise in walking.

With the advent of MacDonald to Downing street there has come a change in the smoking habits of the staff there. Stanley Baldwin was a pipe lover, and many members of the staff emulated him. MacDonald is a cigarette smoker, and many a clerk who has suffered for nearly a year with a juicy strong pipe is back with the cigarette. There is nothing fancy about the prime minister's taste in cigarettes, either. He smokes "Gold Flakes"—one of the popular brands smoked by the man in the street—twenty of them for a shilling, as cheap as any decent cigarette in England.

The first day that MacDonald was in Downing street his secretary, Miss Rose Rosenberg, came dashing out of the front door and across the street to a tobacconist's. She returned with a package of twenty "Gold Flakes."

"They're for Mr. MacDonald," she explained to inquisitive reporters. The prime minister hadn't learned that he should purchase his cigarettes by the thousand and have them handed to him by a flunky on a silver service.

Sartorially Ramsay MacDonald doesn't rank out of the average. He is not what Piccadilly calls a "posh dresser," but he dresses with care and neatness and with as good taste as any of his predecessors, unless it be Lloyd George, who had a flare for striking overcoats.

English cartoonists are welcoming MacDonald to office, for his face is easy to caricature. He has a droopy sort of mustache that easily lends itself to fun-making pens and pencils.

Some people have been prone to criticize Ramsay MacDonald as a "dude," because he has been pictured wearing knickerbockers. They forget that "plus fours," as knickerbockers are known in England and Scotland, have almost displaced the kilt as the national garb of Scotland.

MacDonald is not a wit or a raconteur. There is a dearth of funny stories which are attributed to MacDonald. Life has always been serious business for him. No matter how famous he may become, MacDonald will not succeed in registering himself deeper in the hearts of the people of England than did his wife. A beautiful monument is hidden away in Lincoln's Inn Fields, erected to the memory of Margaret MacDonald. Mrs. MacDonald's great efforts on behalf of the people of England have made her character revered and loved.

WIVES SURVIVE FIVE PRESIDENTS

Six Former First Ladies Are Still Living

The wives as well as deeds of presidents live after them. Six former "First Ladies of the Land" are now living. Only one former president—William Howard Taft—survives.

One of the widowed "First Ladies" is now the wife of another. This is Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, who was Mrs. Grover Cleveland. The other living mates of former chief executives are Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Warren G. Harding, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison.

It is not known what Mrs. Wilson's disposition will be, but the other presidential widows, after their period of mourning, began active lives.

Mrs. Florence Kling Harding has taken up editorial work for the Marion, O., Star, the paper that nurtured her husband to political success.

Mrs. Roosevelt is now on a tour of the Orient with her son, Kermit. She takes an active part in the management of her husband's estate.

Mrs. Harrison, the widow of the man who occupied the White House in between Cleveland's two terms, does not receive much attention in the press, but she occupies a distinguished position in the social world.

Mrs. Taft, the other surviving "First Lady," does not go in much for society, although she is entitled to an exalted position because of her husband's position as chief justice of the supreme court.

THE GLENDALE

"The Near Lady," a Universal attraction with Gladys Walton, adapted from a Frank R. Adams story and directed by Herbert Blanche, continues at the Glendale Theatre, where it has amazed by its cleverness.

Miss Walton is very attractive as the little manicurist who delects the barber shop for the gold course when her dad's sausage machine makes a million dollars.

The cast is well balanced. Kate Price and Otis Harlan being especially good in the roles of the parents of the manicurist. Their action is virtually all light comedy.

The action centers around the manicurist and the only son of the family of the Van Bibbers, who have long been among those present in society's most select circles, but whose fortune is not as good of late.

MEASURES VOLUME

The relative volume of insecticides is measured mechanically by a device invented by a United States government scientist.

When France's reconstruction plans are completed it will have 9,600,000 spindles for spinning cotton, 1,225,110 spindles for doubling, 180,000 looms and 268 printing machines.

THE GATEWAY

"Big Brother," a Paramount attraction now showing at the Gateway Theatre, with Tom Moore, Raymond Hatton and Edith Roberts, directed by Allan Dwan from a Rex Beach story, Dwan from a Rex Beach story, Dwan from a Rex Beach story.

It is an altogether unusual production, in that it depicts graphically just what the Big Brother Movement is endeavoring to accomplish throughout the world—the proper raising of the boys and youths—the future men of the land on whom the destiny of their country rests. It is the story of one "Big Brother," taken as a concrete example of what is to be generally expected from others the world over.

MONKEY IN HANDBAG

Women's latest whims include gloves of black kid, worked with a faint red pattern to match a frock; an orthodox evening attire for a society belle, a part of which is a muff worn on all occasions indoors and outdoors; and one that attracted most notice of all was an American girl abroad dancing with a monkey no bigger than an orange, snuggled in a handbag at her wrist.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE WIND FAIRY
Uncle Wiggily was just starting out from his hollow stump bungalow one day to look for an adventure, when along lumbered Mr. Whitewash, the polar bear gentleman. The polar bear gentleman.

"Hello, Mr. Whitewash!" greeted the rabbit. "Hello! Hello!" grunted the polar bear gentleman. He spoke in rather a hoarse voice, for he had caught a bit of a cold, sleeping on a cake of ice. "Too bad about Grandpa Goosey Gander, isn't it?" went on Mr. Whitewash. "What's he had about Grandpa Goosey Gander?" Uncle Wiggily wanted to know.

"He was so anxious for a swim that he cracked the ice and flapped around in the half frozen water of the duck pond," explained Mr. Whitewash. "That would have been all right had he been a polar bear like me, with warm fur on. But Grandpa Goosey caught cold, and now he has the epizootic."

"Oh, I'm so sorry!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I didn't know that Grandpa Goosey was ill. I'll go over to see him and cheer him up. I'll twinkle my pink nose for him and make him laugh."

"It would be an act of charity," growled Mr. Whitewash. He did not growl because he was cross, but because he had a cold in his throat. "Tell him I'll come to see him tomorrow, Uncle Wiggily," begged the polar bear gentleman as he lumbered off to Dr. Possum's drug store to get a washbowl of cough medicine.

"I'll do that," promised Uncle Wiggily, and making sure that his pink nose was twinkling, so he could show it to Grandpa Goosey and make him laugh. Mr. Longest started to hop through the woods. He was going to see the goose gentleman who had the epizootic.

All of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods, there fell down, so close to him as to make him jump aside, a big branch from a tree. The tree branch nearly hit the rabbit.

"Hello! Hello there!" cried the bunny, looking into the tree. "Who is up there throwing sticks of wood at me? If that is you, Jacko or Jumbo Kinkytail, please don't do it again."

But Uncle Wiggily saw nothing of the monkey boys whose names he had just called.

"Come to think of it, Jacko or Jumbo wouldn't be out here in the cold," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "Monkeys like to be where it is warm. But I wonder who threw that stick at me?"

However, as he could see no one, Uncle Wiggily hopped along to Grandpa Goosey's house. Then, all of a sudden, another stick fell down, or was thrown down, out of a tree. It almost hit the bunny gentleman on his pink, twinkling nose.

"Hello! Who threw that?" cried Uncle Wiggily. There was no answer, only the wind sighed gently through the tree tops as if sorry for what had happened.

"Perhaps it was some fairy, bringing in wood to make a fire," thought the rabbit gentleman. "But I don't believe any fairy would throw anything at me. One must have dropped a stick by accident. I will say nothing more about it."

Well, Uncle Wiggily would have said nothing more, but as he was almost out of the woods, close to Grandpa Goosey's house, a third stick fell close to the bunny.

"Hello, you, up there, whoever you are!" cried the bunny gentleman. "This is too much! I don't mind one stick falling near me! I don't mind two sticks—but three sticks are too many! Please be more careful up there, little fairy!"

No one up in the tree answered, but from down on the ground came a harsh voice, saying:

"To whom are you talking?" "Well, not to you, anyhow," answered Uncle Wiggily, as he saw the Fuzzy Fox stalking along. "I wasn't speaking to you." "Perhaps not," growled the Fox. "But I am speaking to you! To whom were you calling just now?"

"It must have been a fairy up in the trees, dropping sticks of wood on me," answered the bunny. "Three sticks fell almost hitting me. I think a fairy dropped them."

"Oh, ho! A fairy, eh?" cried the Fox. "Well, if there is one thing more than another that I am fond of nibbling it's fairies! Here! Take me to the woods, Uncle Wiggily, and show me where the sticks fell. I'll nibble that fairy and then I'll nibble you. Lead on! Show me the place!"

Not wanting to, but afraid to say no, Uncle Wiggily led the bad Fox back through the woods. All of a sudden there was a rustling in the tree tops and down fell a big stick. It hit the Fox on his nose. Oh, such a crack as it gave him!

"Wow! Wow! Who did that?" howled the Fox. "Oh, my nose! My nose!" and away he ran, leaving Uncle Wiggily safely there.

"Ha! I should like to know, myself, what fairy dropped that club on the Fox," said the bunny. "I did it," answered a gentle voice. "I am the Wind Fairy and

It hit the Wolf on the nose.

I blow the trees. The other sticks fell near you by accident, but this one I blew down on the Fox purposely, to save you." "Thank you—much obliged, Wind Fairy!" laughed the bunny. Then he hopped on to see Grandpa Goosey Gander. And when Grandpa Goosey heard the funny story of the Wind Fairy, as I have told it to you here, he laughed and was cured of the epizootic.

So this teaches us that laughter is good for us. And if the parlor stove doesn't shake itself and scatter ashes all over the piano legs, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Bob Cat's pipe.

A resolution was passed last night by the board of city trustees ordering the standards and lights in on Orange street.

This section of Southern California is being visited by a great rain. H. E. Bartlett states that up to 12 o'clock noon today there has been 2.15 inches, making 21 inches for the season.

The wash just north of Arden avenue is a raging torrent again.

Bronchitis Best Treated With Vapors

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Congested Air Passages.

If a cold has been neglected and has gone down into the chest, producing acute bronchitis, thoroughly reddening the skin over throat and chest with hot, wet towels to open the pores. Then massage briskly with Vicks for five minutes, spread on thickly and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

For hours after Vicks is applied the vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc., are inhaled directly into the infected air passages. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin like a poultice of plaster.

Being externally applied, Vicks is especially good for children and is used by millions of mothers to prevent or relieve cold troubles.

"PROPER BRINGING UP OF DAUGHTERS REALLY PROBLEM OF BRINGING UP PARENTS"

"I believe the question of rearing our daughters is not so much the bringing up of our daughters as the bringing up of ourselves as parents." So says Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, New York social leader, for years, and known for her philanthropic activities.

"I do not think it is so much a question of the training of young girls as it is of the training of us older women in the insight and understanding of the girl of today—an insight into her psychology and an understanding of the vast

Mrs. A. DODGE changes that have taken place and that are taking place in the girl's environment and in the social structure generally, not only in our large cities and towns, but in rural districts here in America, and for that matter everywhere else in the world."

According to Mrs. Dodge, the first duty of parenthood, in the case of an adolescent girl or boy, is to train oneself to look at life with something of the vision of the young person in question. To the girl or boy of 20 life presents itself as quite a different thing from what it will present itself to the woman and man, say at 40, and it is one of the few compensations of our increase in years—indeed about the only compensation—that we do have, or at least should have, this one thing denied to youth—the capacity for perspective. This has proved the stumbling block to parents in every era, but never so much so as in our own day.

"We are coming through a period of fluctuating social values such as the world has never before known," said Mrs. Dodge. "Our entire social and political system is undergoing a transition so radical and far-reaching that its effect upon the individual, particularly upon the young of both sexes, is almost incalculable."

"Youth has perhaps never before been so beset by difficulties of all kinds, and certainly the duties and responsibilities of parenthood, particularly of motherhood, have never been quite so complex as in the present day."

The situation as regards the young girl and all that makes for her safety and future happiness and usefulness as a wife and mother, according to Mrs. Dodge, has never been quite so grave.

Dinner Stories

The captain entered the officers' mess kitchen.

"Do I understand that there will be no dessert tonight?" he demanded sternly.

"Yes," replied the new and careless private.

"Yes—what?" roared the captain.

"Yes—we have no bananas."

America's cotton crop before the appearance of the boll weevil was 16,000,000 bales in a season.

BURBANK

ADOPT POLICIES TO DEVELOP CITY

Tentative Platform Covers
Program of Activity
to Aid Burbank

A tentative platform covering the future political policies of Burbank has been adopted by the Goodfellows' Club, and comprises the following points: A charter, an adequate fire department, an adequate health department, an adequate garbage collection department, an adequate lighting system, a justice court, abolition of grade crossings, harmony between city administration and manufacturers, protection of song birds (no mention made as to whether this includes the human variety), and acquisition and maintenance of a city park.

The committee drafting the platform comprises: V. M. Crause, Gustav Rasmussen, C. A. Thompson, Gregg W. Summers, Elmer Dale, Walter C. Fisher, W. S. Furnan and Charles B. Wood.

At the last regular meeting of the Women's Club the ways and means committee tendered a recommendation that a $20,000 bond issue be floated to finance erection of their new club building. The bonds as proposed will carry 5 per cent and run for fifteen years, none to be retired before five years.

Before the club can get a permit to float the bonds, according to state law, two-thirds of the membership must favor the measure. A resolution to this effect is now being prepared for submission to the members.

The success of the Glendale women in building their $100,000 Tuesday afternoon clubhouse has been the inspiration back of the Burbank effort.

C. of C. Tax Canvass In accordance with the statement from the city trustees that they will enact any ordinances that the people of Burbank desire, Manager J. W. Charleville of the Chamber of Commerce is planning a house-to-house canvass on the occupational tax, determined to get a direct "yes" or "no" on this moot question.

"When we complete this canvass," says Manager Charleville, "we will tabulate the answers according to business and craft, and recommendation will then be made to the city trustees, to retain or repeal the occupational tax, according to the majority expression, acting separately on each business and craft, as this is believed to be the fairest way to handle the question.

"In going into this matter, the

LARGE TRACT IS OFFERED PUBLIC

Encino Manor, Beautiful
Subdivision, Situated on Wide Boulevard

Encino Manor is one of the new subdivisions that are being opened by live developers of the San Fernando valley, to take care of the continuous influx of new settlers into this territory. This beautiful tract is divided into acres, half acres and quarter acres, with big quarter acre city lots selling as low as $590.

It is situated on Balboa boulevard, a 100-foot driveway, is within the city of Los Angeles, near Hollywood, and has all modern conveniences and public utilities.

Balboa boulevard taps the San Fernando valley and joins San Fernando road near the San Fernando reservoir.

Through Highway It is planned as a through road connecting the valley with the beaches, via Sepulveda canyon, Mulholland drive, etc. It will cut off fifteen miles to the ocean and avoid congested traffic on Los Angeles arteries.

Encino Manor promises to be another of those prospective communities that have arisen like magic in southern California. It is attracting a great deal of attention from home-seekers and investors at this time. Beeman Realty company, whose Glendale office is 249 North Brand boulevard, is selling the tract.

News Photographer Gets Into Vesuvius

NAPLES, Feb. 21.—Umberto Romagnolia, daring aviator-photographer of International News Reel, flitted with death yesterday and came out of the crater of Vesuvius, the most feared of the world's volcanoes. Accompanied by a pilot, Romagnolia, camera man of a hundred thrilling episodes, flew over the blackened cone of Vesuvius, dipped into the crater and flew about for seven minutes, establishing a record. Observers saw the plane drop into the flaming pit thought that it had gotten out of control, and spread the alarm that it had plunged into the molten lava beds with its two passengers. No one apparently saw the plane come out and it was not until Romagnolia and his pilot arrived here with the story of their exploit that news of their safety became known.

VANDALS FIRE CHURCH

MEER, Colo., Feb. 21.—This town is in arms following an alleged attempt by incendiaries to fire the Methodist church, of which Rev. David A. Gregg is pastor. According to the minister, threatening letters and telephone calls have reached him during the past few days, demanding that he leave town.

EAGLE ROCK

INCREASE TAXES SCHOOL CAPACITY

One Hundred More Pupils
Are Enrolled in Past Week;
Revise Schedules

With 100 new pupils added to the Central school last week, the enrollment has reached the high-water mark of 900, reports Principal C. W. Preston. Every available inch of space is being utilized and schedules are being revised to see if some way cannot be found to make just a bit more use of the rooms.

In order to take care of the added number, two more teachers have been employed. Miss Violet Walker is replacing Miss Ethel Odell and Miss Alice Summers is in charge of the A-6 class and Miss Flora Miller Smith is in charge of the B-5 class.

The day for the seventh and eighth grades is now divided into six forty-minute periods, Mr. Preston states, with an added twenty-five-minute period for class spelling. These grades now have no recess during the day and only a three-minute interval between classes.

Charter Copies Free Copies of the new city charter on which electors will vote May 6 may be had free at room 2, City Hall, 232 South Broadway, Los Angeles, it is announced.

Miss Jessie E. Hellings, assistant secretary of the board of freeholders, will be in the office until election day and will answer all questions pertaining to the charter. She will also arrange for members of the board to address any meeting at any time, in order to make more clear this great work upon which the freeholders have been deliberating for so many months.

Lieut. E. W. Welty of the Eagle Rock fire department "shakes a wicked rhyme." In other words, he writes verse that packs a wallop. One of his effusions recently gained him second prize of $15 cash in the "Value of View" contest. The poem is too long to quote, yet may be quoted from:

"Would you, if you knew the value of a view,

Forego your longing to roam?
If you found happiness in a land filled with bliss,
Would you make that place
your home?"

"Carload of Milk" Drive Eagle Rock will ship to the Near East a carload of condensed milk, if the drive now under way is successful. "Dr. J. C. Shedd of Occidental College has been appointed chairman of the milk fund drive committee of the local Chamber of Commerce and is actively pushing the campaign.

In order to concentrate on this campaign of mercy, the Bowl drive has been temporarily abandoned. J. M. Odell, who plans to work with the main Los Angeles committee on this drive, hopes to get many to buy whole cases of milk.

The school children will also actively co-operate in saving lives in stricken Assyria, Greece, Turkey and Persia.

COX CANDIDATE AGAIN

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21.—Formal consent for the use of his name for candidate for president has been given by James M. Cox, former governor of Ohio, and Democratic presidential nominee in 1920, Democratic headquarters announced here.

Doheny Caustic On Navy Oil Lease Probe

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—"A lot of people are trying to run the American people off their feet in the investigation of the naval reserve oil leases," E. L. Doheny, head of the Pan-American Petroleum company, was quoted as saying in an interview in the Wall Street Journal.

"When I was on the stand in Washington," he said, "it reminded me of old times in the west when one of our dogs at mating season joined the wolves—the wolves would surround our camp at night and I could hear my own dog barking among the wolves as they howled around us."

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

SECURED RELIEF THROUGH FOLEY PILLS

John R. Gordon, Danville, Ill., writes: "I have suffered with kidney trouble five years; could not sleep at night and was always tired. I was not strong and hard work made my back ache. I got some FOLEY PILLS and after a few treatments I felt better and could work with more ease, became stronger and could sleep better." FOLEY PILLS are a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, make them more active. Get a bottle today. Occidental Debaters Enter Second Round Occidental college will debate with the University of Redlands and the Southern Branch of the University of California tonight in the second round of the conference series of men's debates. The Oxy affirmative team, Ed Jones and Francis Henshaw, journey to Redlands, and the negative team, Verne Mantel and Bob Stevenson, meet the S. B. U. C. debaters on the home platform. Both debates are on the question, resolved, that Congress should be given the power to re-enact laws declared unconstitutional by the Supreme court. The debates start at 8:00 p. m. and there is no charge for admission.

Dervishes Fail to Rouse Enthusiasm

(Continued From Page 1) tent and stick a red hot iron into it so that it sizzles and boils in their mouths. Can you believe it? Oh, religion, what crimes are committed in thy name! "So it was indeed refreshing, yesterday (Sunday) morning, amid all the babel and confusion of cults, sects and idolatry, and people of every caste, from the beggars, who dog your footsteps constantly, to the rich in their limousines, to enter a little Dutch chapel, listen to an address by an educated, consecrated Christian man in the plain, old-fashioned way. What would life be without it?"

This Pretty Girl Who Defies Age Discloses Great Beauty Secret

Says It's Nothing More Than Old Fashioned Ordinary Buttermilk in the Form of a Wonderful Cream. Is Guaranteed by All Good Drug and Department Stores.

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crows' feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that with the understanding that they quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream. To prove this to your complete satisfaction, get a small quantity today at your toilet goods counter with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money should you be dissatisfied.
